General advice is an opinion or recommendation about a financial product, which does not take into account your objectives, financial situation and/or needs.

Not all of our staff are qualified to give you financial advice. Some are authorised only to give general advice on a limited range of financial products. If one of our staff cannot help you or provide you with advice, they will refer you to another staff member who can.

Giving us instructions

Depending on the financial service or product concerned, you may conduct transactions or give instructions to us in person, electronically (examples: fax, email, telephone, internet, ATMs) and via our authorised representatives. In some cases you may also authorise other people to conduct transactions or give instructions on your behalf. It may still be necessary for some instructions to be confirmed in writing.
